

Research

Frédéric PELLEGRIN-ROMECCIO brilliantly defended his thesis entitled Dynamic assembly of multi-service supply chains: identification of the key skills of central coordinators in the travel industry, on 13 September 2011 at the Faculty of Economics and Management Sciences of the University of Aix Marseille, in the University Management Sciences Research Laboratory, which specialises in Logistics (CRET-LOG). The panel was made up of the following members: Nathalie FABBE-COSTES, Professor at the University of the Mediterranean – Aix Marseille II, thesis supervisor, two rapporteurs: Muriel JOUGLEUX, Professor at Paris Est University, Marne la Vallée, and Luis ARAUJO, Professor at Lancaster University Management School-UK and two suffragants: Gilles PACHE, Professor at the University of the Mediterranean – Aix Marseille II, and Mady KEUP, Assistant Professor at SKEMA Business School – Centre for Tourism Management. The defence was considered “Très Honorable.” Frédéric was congratulated by the panel for his work.